SICO

ARTICLE INFO

The SICO LINK software bundle contains the SICO LINK and SIMON LINK software. Both cables for connecting are included, SICO-USB-110 and USB-300.

Easy application

The application is very simple. An interface on the product provides access to the software via a USB cable. In this way, diagnostics can be made to function, but also change product-specific settings. With automatic updates and quick help with problems with TeamViewer, there is no longer a waste of time. Authorized SIMON PROtec partners receive a laptop and software packaged with the USB-300 connection cable and a custom license key. This is valid for a period of one year and is extended depending on the rental period.
